

I am appalled that this is even proposed. This serves only the interest of the LEC's and the Bell operating companies. I, as a customer, and owner of Atoka Software, run my own web site and servers that are connected to the internet backbone, and are a part of the internet, through an independent service provider. under this proposed rule, i would lose that ability. Please do the right thing and support the public, not corporate fat cats!